

HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING AT MARTINSVILLE WHERE SUMMER NORMAL IS HELD

PLEA FOR THE "FITTING SCHOOL"

 are worth all the Latin, Greek and mathematics ever put within the lids of a book. For while these schools had two chief aims, high scholarship and a high sense of honor, honor always ranked first in the eyes of masters and pupils.
 There are but few of them left. As a Virginian who passionately loves the honor and glory of my State, I pray that new schools of the same old type may spring up to take the places of those that have passed away, though not before they had left their impress on their time.

COLLEGE TRAINING FOR COUNTRY GIRL

 reception rooms at college, or in planning bright and interesting programs—then, why not give her a part in such work at home? As a rule she will be the first to answer this question by her own interest, and the enthusiasm which she is able to instill in others. The college girl who does not care for such work is an exception to the rule, and unworthy of her alma mater.
 How a College Education Pays Financially.
 But there are many country girls who are forced to earn their own living, who prefer staying in their own city to the quiet life on the farm. In what ways should a college education appeal to them? First of all, the world is now demanding trained workers as never before. The day is almost past when any one can teach school who has not had definite training in the principles underlying child development and the methods best suited to each peculiar stage of mental growth and change. Moreover, the field of woman's work is increasing with rapid strides, so that every one can now find some occupation suited to her ability. Even from the practical viewpoint of a salary and good position, a college education presents far-reaching possibilities. And yet how much greater the opportunity seems to one whose ideal is not personal gain, but service in molding the future of our country in the ways of general culture and high moral standards. Such a young woman has learned to use rightly the best things which her alma mater offered, an attitude of generosity and service as the highest purpose to be gained, and a true interpretation of life's needs and the methods of improving them.

Fork Union Military Academy.
 This school is located in the foothills of Northern Piedmont of Virginia. It is a young man and boys for college, university, medical schools, etc. Its standards are high, its terms are reasonable, and it seeks to develop the honor, self-respect and virtue of its students.
 The school is military, being equipped by the Department of War at Washington city, and supplied with an officer from the United States service, who is instructor in military science and tactics, and is commandant of the battalion. The cadets are constantly under military supervision. The students are in uniform all the time, the colors being gray for the dress uniform and olive drab for the fatigue uniform.
 The school also has an agricultural department, and a special teacher has been engaged who will be in charge of that work.

 Utmost care is exercised over the health, studies, and general bearing of the students.

THE BLACKSTONE SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

ESTABLISHED IN 1894.

The aim of the school is clearly set forth by its Motto: "Thorough instruction under positively Christian influences at the lowest possible cost." The school was established by the Methodist Church, not to make money, but to furnish a place where girls can be given thorough training in body, mind and heart at a moderate cost. The object has been so fully carried out that as a Thirty scholarships, worth $75 each, are given annually to young ladies who are unable to meet the full expenses of the school, but who are sufficiently anxious for an education to be willing to assist the housekeeper in the care of the dining-room.

Front Royal College

(Co-Educational)

FRONT ROYAL, VA.

When a parent takes from his own fireside his own child and places that child in the keeping of another to care for his intellectual, moral and physical welfare, in that act that parent exercises a trust not surpassed, if equaled, by any other act of his life. Entertaining as we do this view of the seriousness of the matter of the education of our youth, our faculty has been selected with great care.

The aim of this institution, by educating the head, the heart and the hand, is to fit the young people that come within its walls for life's activities; hence it is organized along intensely practical lines.

Location

The College is located in Front Royal—a busy, hustling little city, the county seat of Warren county, and one of the most enterprising and prosperous in the famed Shenandoah Valley.

It is eighty miles west of Washington, D. C., is touched by both the Norfolk and Western and Southern railroads, and is near the confluence of the north and south branches of the beautiful Shenandoah River that traverses the Valley of Virginia. A more delightful location for a college cannot be found anywhere.

On every hand there is beautiful mountain scenery; the town itself is at the foot of the Blue Ridge, and the Massanutten Range is but a short distance west, while the Alleghenias, looming up, are plainly visible.

The Buildings

We now occupy a handsome brick building which cost nearly $50,000, and which is equipped with all modern conveniences, steam heat, electric lights, mountain water, baths, etc.; has an attractive dining-room, commodious, well-lighted living-rooms, especially furnished recitation rooms—all in one building. In addition to this beautiful building, which we have outgrown, preparations are already on foot for the erection of another commodious structure, equipped with light, heat, baths, etc., and fitted in every way for college use, even as our present quarters are.
